

Smillie Again Downs Brummet For City Crown

They Team For Doubles Title

GEORGE SMILLIE
(City Champion Wears A Concerned Expression)

It's getting to the point where the Ann Arbor City Tennis Tournament is turning into a reunion of Kalamazoo College alumni and undergraduates.

George Smillie won his third straight singles title yesterday and then teamed with John Brummet for the doubles crown.

Sue Loeb, who won the women's singles championship in 1966, added another one before joining Peg Faulkner for victory in doubles.

The last remaining event of this summer's tournament, the mixed doubles, will be contested at 5:30 p.m. Monday at Burns Park. The match will involve the team of Carmen and Gary Lane against Emily Kennedy and Frank Whitehouse.

Obviously Smillie's playing career did not end when he captained the Kalamazoo College team in the spring of 1966. Since graduating, he dominated the local

Two years ago, Smillie defeated the State Class A High School champion, Rick Weir, in straight sets. In 1967, he also turned back John Brummet, a three-time winner of the State Class C-D prep title and now a Kalamazoo College player.

Smillie's experience, consistent aggressive net play and hard, deep serves were just too much for Brummet who, using his patented two-handed backhand shot, played extremely well.

Smillie took the first set, 6-2, and was extended to gain the second, 7-5.

Then Smillie and Brummet formed a rugged doubles team and defeated Bill Brown and Whitehouse, 6-2, 6-4.

Brown and Whitehouse had opportunities to move in front but the Kalamazoo pair was tenacious.

Mrs. Loeb did not defend her title last summer and the 1967 championship went to Karen Knowles, who defeated Connie Carpenter.

The 1966 women's singles championship went to Mrs. Loeb, who turned back Carmen Lane.

Apparently the year's absence did not hamper Mrs. Loeb. The most games she lost in any one match was six.

She found Geraldine Kamm a most worthy opponent. Almost every point was hotly contested and it took a lengthy time to settle the issue, 6-2, 6-3.

Mrs. Loeb then joined her doubles partner, Peg Faulkner, for another championship. They defeated Julie Owens and Connie Carpenter, 6-2, 6-3.

As far as the mixed doubles is concerned, Whitehouse is a seasoned veteran. Last year, he teamed with Louise Stanley and they lost in the finals to Dick Nixon and Karen Knowles, 6-4, 6-1.

Last year the Lanes advanced into the semi-finals of the mixed doubles and were defeated by the eventual champions on scores of 6-3, 6-4.

On Way To Victory

Concentration shows on the face of John Brummet as he serves and prepares to join partner George Smillie at the net in their second-round doubles match yesterday. Brummet and Smillie, the second seeded men's team, made short work of the contest as they won in straight sets over Matt Lampe and Bob Blosssey, 6-0, 6-1.
